

DATA SHARING

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A technique for sharing data is disclosed. The technique comprises performing a search in a first application to obtain a first search result, transferring search data 5 associated with the search to a second application, and providing, in the second application, a second search result based on the search data.